WELL BACKED MAIDEN WINS

HUGHIE QUINN TAKES RACE BY BIG MARGIN IN LEAVING NON-WINNING CLASS.

Baby Doll Scores After Her Chances Appear Hopeless—Public Hit Books Hard on Victory of Setback—More Horses for R. J. Mackenzie.

El Paso, Tex., December 26.—Hughie Quinn graduated today from the maiden ranks in impressive style. He was badly placed in the first part, but came with a great rush at the finish. The fifth race went to Baby Doll, which left the post last. At the head of the stretch her chances did not appear particularly inviting, but she came so fast that she finally obtained the lead in the stretch racing. Baby Doll rode King's Creed rather sluggishly. Setback accounted for the last race of the day. He was kicked while at the post by Harlem Maid and ran a good game race. The talent made the ring feel the effects of his victory.

Four horses arrived today from Kansas City. They belong to the estate of C. L. Harrison. They are Winnie, Witch, Bonanza, Bee Rose and Tyre. This morning's work-outs included the following:

KING GEORGE'S RELATION TO THE TURF.

That Sir John Thurst spoke not only with the authority of King George V., but probably by his majesty's command, is not too positive a conclusion to be drawn from the direct and definite manner in which he dealt with the king's relations to the turf in his speech at the York Gluecrack Club dinner. Sir John said that the announcement was made in view of certain published reports of his majesty's withdrawal from the turf, and he contradicted them in the most absolute way. The king had no intention of retiring from the sport in which the last two British sovereigns, his father and his grandfather, were also keenly interested, and he meant to participate in it in the future as far as his many duties and engagements permitted. The Gluecrack Club dinner was an annual function now 146 years old, at which the leading spirits of the English turf are heard and many interesting announcements are made. The fact that this important occasion, with its attendant wide publicity, was chosen for Sir John Thurst's statement, leaves little doubt of the significance of the king's assurance of his permanent support for one of Britain's great institutions. As a matter of history, King George is only going through the same experience as previous occupants of the throne.

The rumor-mongers told the same tale about Queen Victoria and about King Edward VII. During the period of official mourning for the late queen, the form the story took was that the new king would not return to racing except under an assumed name, though he had won the Derby twice when Prince of Wales. I always remember in this connection a striking instance of the spirit with which the turf is viewed by men otherwise of clear vision, but ignorant of and prejudiced against it. The amazing comment was made that this course would be a confession that there was "something equivocal about the turf." Such a trivial and illogical interpretation of what would have been a natural action and a common one was made by the greatest master of the English language in Canada, and it was particularly illustrative of the want of imagination of the king's relations to the turf. The king's statement was quite reasonable and proper, but it was "something equivocal" when a king adopted another title in a pastime in which he met his subjects on equal terms.—Francis Nelson in Toronto Globe.

NOTES OF THE TURF.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney expect to sail for Europe on January 4, to pass the remainder of the winter in England and on the continent.

It was because of a request made by the clergy-men of El Paso that General Steever asked the management of the Jueces track to eliminate the race for army officers last Sunday. The El Paso pastors have been bitterly opposed to the Jueces track from the beginning and the programming of an army race for Sunday was doubly objectionable from their standpoint.

RACING OF SUCCESSFUL AMERICAN-BRED HORSES IN ENGLAND

In English racing from October 1 to November 23 inclusive, being the end of the flat racing season of 1912, American-bred horses won thirty-five races, besides being placed in many more. Generally speaking, these were races of ordinary importance, but not all of them. Adam Bede's dual victories in the Duke of York Stakes at Kempton Park and the Cambridgehire Handicap at Newmarket were achieved in two of the foremost events of England's autumn racing. Less important, but races any owner over their likes to win, were Queen Tili's Market Plate at Derby, Handy Andy's Stanley Nursery Handicap at Doncaster, Castle-ton's Richmond Plate at Kempton Park, Swing Clear's Eglington Nursery Handicap at Manchester, Tres Pinos' Reading Nursery Handicap at Newbury and Forward's Blankney Nursery Handicap at Lincoln. It may be said here that from the beginning of the year's racing at Lincoln to its close at Manchester American-bred horses won in England this year 168 votes of the aggregate value in first money of $213,340, which represents quite an advance over 1911. Since among these races are two of the classes the Two Thousand Guineas and the St. Leger, Americans have distinct reason for viewing the performances of our expatriated horses in England with patriotic pride. This table and others similar which have been published in Daily Racing Form from time to time gives a complete record of what our horses have done in the native land of the thoroughbred:

HOPEFUL OF GOOD FUTURITY ENTRY.

New York, December 26.—Owners of thoroughbred broodmares in all parts of the country are now being forwarded entry blanks by the Coney Island Jockey Club, in which the conditions of the Futurity of 1915 are set forth.

The entries are to close in a few days. Mr. Shammberg, the secretary of the club, is hopeful that at least 400 mares will be entered. The club would mean that the stakes would be worth about $25,000. Though the Futurity was not run in 1911 or 1912, the race having been declared off in each of these seasons, when it became evident that it could not be decided at the club's own course, there are strong hopes that in 1913 the far famed fixture will be run, and this hope will help to bring about an excellent entry for 1915. The Futurity of 1914 is also alive.

Horsemen in every part of the United States and Canada assert that the running of this great stake has been a serious blow to them. They argue that if it were known positively that the Futurity would be run each season there would be less necessity to send yearlings to foreign markets, because knowledge of the positive running of the race would enhance the value of every colt or filly engaged in it and there would be keener competition for them in this country.

In connection concerning the value of the Futurities which have been run since 1883, its first year, Secretary Shammberg said that the Coney Island Jockey Club has paid out to the owners and breeders of the first, second and third in that race more than $1,000,000, and that the club has paid out to the owners of horses since 1880 more than $12,000,000. "I should think that this has played a great part in bringing about the steady improvement in horse flesh which has been going on in all that time," added Mr. Shammberg.

INSPECTED STALLIONS IN BLUEGRASS REGION

Lexington, Ky., December 26.—Dr. R. W. McCully, after making a thorough examination of James R. Keene's stallions at Kingston Farm, and likewise those of James B. Haggin at Elmdorf Farm during this week, left this morning for New York. "I found the Keene and Haggin thoroughbred horses in grand physical condition," he said. "Several of the older stallions are in remarkably good shape, in fact better by far than I expected. John Mackey, who came from New York with the idea of spending a week or so at Elmdorf, returned with Dr. McCully. Snow and dampness under foot caused him to change his plans.

GREAT HORSE GOES TO STUD

OLAMBALA, ONE OF THE BEST OF RECENT-DAY RACERS, TO RACE NO MORE.

Winner of Suburban, Commonwealth, Brighton, Saratoga and Champlain Handicaps of 1910 Retired to R. T. Wilson's Breeding Establishment.

Olanbala, the six-year-old son of Ormus—Blue and White, by Virgil, is about to enter the stud, according to announcement by his owner, R. T. Wilson. Olanbala is the best horse that ever carried the colors of Mr. Wilson and will be mated the coming spring with the band of well-bred mares that Mr. Wilson has domiciled in Kentucky. During his five seasons in training, Olanbala won seventeen races and $41,317 in stakes and purses. He was purchased for a substantial sum in the summer of 1910 by Mr. Wilson from John G. Greener of Nashville, Tenn., who had paid $130 for his dam while she was carrying Olanbala. Blue and White was the property of J. H. Warner, of Sumner County, Tennessee, when Mr. Greener made the purchase that turned out so profitably. On his dam's side Olanbala comes from stout, old-fashioned American stock, potent with the blood of Eclipse, but on his sire's side, his pedigree is English. Ormus was a son of Bend Or that was brought to this country by the late Wyndham Walden, and whose racing career was prematurely ended by an early break-down.

Olanbala, besides proving his worth as a high-class race horse, is described as an animal of striking individuality. He is a chestnut of large proportions and handsome type. The sobriquet, "Big Jim" was affectionately bestowed upon him after he had joined the Wilson stable and demonstrated his prowess by vanquishing practically all of the best horses in training in this country in various important stakes as a three-year-old and a four-year-old. He was contemporaneous with such stars of the turf as Fitz Herbert and King James. The former was his superior and Olanbala repeatedly finished second to him in the big events of eastern racing. Olanbala defeated King James, however, both as a three-year-old and a four-year-old.

Olanbala raced moderately as a two-year-old and as a three-year-old he won the Latonia Derby in the colors of John G. Greener. Most of his other stake successes were achieved after he became a member of the Wilson stable. He ran second to Fitz Herbert in the Lawrence Realization of 1909, was third in the Saratoga Handicap, second in the Champlain Handicap, won the Saratoga Cup and the Twin City Handicap, in which latter event he beat King James; finished second to Fitz Herbert in the J. H. Handicap, then won the Municipal Handicap at Belmont Park and the Belmont Park Weight for Age Race. In his final start as a three-year-old, he ran second to Fitz Herbert in the Election Day Handicap at Agueduct.

As a four-year-old, after participating in one or two overnight races, he ran second to Fitz Herbert in the Brooklyn Handicap and then scored an unbroken sequence of brilliant victories in such great races as the Suburban Handicap, the Commonwealth Handicap, the Brighton Handicap, the Saratoga Handicap and the Champlain Handicap, repeatedly defeating among other good horses, such stars as Hallot and King James. It was on the strength of this string of splendid successes that such a good judge as W. H. Karkick, trainer of many notable horses in his day, spoke of Olanbala as follows:

"Olanbala is the ideal 'cup horse' of America. He typifies all that the horseman of this country have held dear for years—speed and endurance. In my opinion there is not another horse in training that can take his measure from one and three-quarter miles to four miles. He is the one race horse on this continent that could repeat the doughty deeds of such stayers as Glenmore, Bushwhacker, Parole, Monitor, Ten Broeck, Boston, Fashion and Longfellow. If Mr. Wilson wished to send him after records, Olanbala could, in my estimation, establish new marks for from one and three-quarter miles up to four miles.

"Olanbala never had but one master over a distance of ground, and that was the peerless Fitz Herbert," continued Karkick. "It is no disgrace to Olanbala to say he was inferior to Fitz Herbert. Neither does it lessen his greatness at the present time. I believe that Olanbala has improved so much in the last month that even the great Fitz Herbert would have all of his work cut out to beat him over a distance of ground.

"Mind, I am talking of Olanbala as a cup horse—from two miles to four miles. While he has won several races over the mile and a quarter route, I consider this the shortest journey in which he can shine. It takes him a long time to settle in his stride and he cannot race his best over short routes."

Mr. Karkick's idea that Olanbala was above all else a horse of the old-fashioned cup type may have been correct, but he was in addition a horse of brilliant speed at shorter distances, as evidenced by the fact that he holds the American record of 1:57 1/2 for a mile and three-sixteenths and is also joint holder with Broomstick of the American record of 2:02 1/2 for a mile and a quarter. The former record went to his credit at Fort Erie August 2, 1911, on which occasion he carried 120 pounds. On July 2, 1910, at Sleepershead Bay, with 122 pounds up, that Olanbala equaled the record of 2:02 1/2 for a mile and a quarter that Broomstick had made at Brighton Beach July 9, 1904, with 104 pounds up. He had an awkward way of throwing his feet over for the first three-quarters of a mile in all of his races. Generally he did not flatten down and really begin to run until he had covered five or six furlongs and felt the sting of the whip. But when thoroughly aroused he would run smoothly and in whirlwind fashion.

Jockey Archibald, who piloted Olanbala in the Suburban and Brighton Handicaps that he won, declared that Olanbala was the greatest horse he ever rode. He said the horse seemed to labor hard in the early part of his races, but that a touch of the whip would arouse him and cause him to flatten down in earnest. He was not a horse of whims and caprices.

Last year and this, Olanbala failed to distinguish himself as he had in the two preceding years. He started seven times this year, but failed to win. Last year he won three races. It is to be hoped that he will be as much of a success in the stud as he was on the track and that he will get for Mr. Wilson the colors of that good sportsman and courageous friend of the thoroughbred in the days when the breed needed friends of Mr. Wilson's type. The tabulation that follows shows in a concrete form the summary of Olanbala's achievements during his five seasons in training:
